Dear Fellow Patron,

Although 2010 brings us to the end of a decade, the committee has seen an increase in membership and new ideas which is giving new spirit to the event. This year will be the 147th Annual Emancipation Day Celebration. The event will be observed on September 18th & 19th 2010. We will present historical re-enactments, musicians, artists, vendors, civil war troops, and several keynote speakers. Saturday's speaker will be Theodore Delaney, PhD from the Lee University of Virginia. Family illness prevented Steve Davis, CEO of Bob Evans Restaurants from joining us last year. He will be the speaker on Sunday. The enclosed flyer lists the speakers and entertainment you can expect.

Even though the economy has affected all of us in the community, our non-profit organization still needs the generous support of our local sponsors. The good news is our rates have not changed for a space in the annual sponsorship booklet. Please make your donations by check for the following:

- $25 --- honorable mention on Emancipation's website and ¼ page in booklet
- $50 --- honorable mention and/or your logo on Emancipation's website and ½ page in booklet
- $100 or more --- honorable mention and hypertext link to your company's internet homepage from our website and a full page in booklet.

Make checks payable to Emancipation Day Celebration, Inc.,
P.O. Box 511, Gallipolis, Ohio 45631.

Your continued interest and generous support is greatly appreciated. To have your information in the 2010 booklet, please submit by September 1, 2010.

Sincerely,

Joyce Davis
Treasurer
